Update on the Islander

The Islander went to the Royal River Boatyard on 10/28 to have its Coast Guard hull inspection and some major maintenance performed. We are happy to report that the hull inspection went very well. Maintenance manager Mary Todd reported that the Coast Guard was very pleased that CTC is very focused on "preventative" maintenance. To that end, we are having her engine rebuilt, a new furnace, and many other upgrades. Expect the Islander to come home in a few weeks.

Heat on the Piper?

Yes, it's true! We added some heat to the main cabin to make the travel a little more comfortable this fall while work is performed on the Islander.

A Big Thank You!

CTC would like to thank all those who were involved in assisting us during our 11/13 incident when the Pied Piper lost propulsion. Beyond the crew onboard we had critical support from the Chebeague Island Boatyard, Nathan Doughty, David Campbell, Mary Todd, Martha Hamilton Doughty, and Andrew Todd. We especially want to thank our passengers who were so inconvenienced by this event - several of whom helped the crew. Your good spirits and understanding made it much less stressful.

The CTC board has appointed a committee to investigate the incident and recommend changes to policies and procedures and other actions as appropriate..
